A Maine Drama

A curious and yet homely little drama played out here in Maine has held the attention of the people of the United States for the past ten days.

It is the story of the heart throbs of an ancient people because of the human interest involved.

Many a former New Englander, long since moved into remote corners of this great nation, has had his pride quickened and his memories, rich memories, awakened as he has read the various little acts in the drama have been staged.

Away up in the Oxford Hills at Norway, Maine, lived a poor farmer and his wife and in the whole span of their existence they had never come to the attention of the outside world.

They had loved, married, sacrificed, and their family, lived simply from day to day in the sight of God, won the respect and esteem of their neighbors and friends. For years have lived, are now living for one purpose only, the grand drama that are for them as the apple of their eyes.

Norway, Maine, has contributed much to this world. It has raised some distinguished men and women, great journalists, novelists, artists, musicians, jurists, poets, woodworkers, taxidermists and many other artisans and in their midst many a simple, honest, true as steel lived this farmer and his wife and amongst all the great men of Norway has given none ever respect and honor that has been shown to any of the great men of the world.

Mellie Dunham has lived up to the best traditions of New England. Not born to great estate, she learned, insured to a life of toil, in a humble environment he did his work honestly and well. Not content with his lot, he made two things better than any other around him.

He made the best snow shoes in the world and on them a Maine man walked to the North Pole.

He made a fiddle and he learned to play better than anybody about him and he became the greatest fiddler in Maine.

He talked to him, and for him, he danced and waltz and swing to the music of Mellie's melody, rich and melodious, pushed its way well back into the world.

It made folks beam with happiness. It caused tears to fall with its melody, and it made men and maidens dance and twinkle as it bade them dance and dance and dance. And in the end, he was without peer.

He was a simple man, born in poverty, yet in life learned to do things better than any one else, about him. He was a genius, the greatest of his time, and he became the richest man of the world, by putting the greatest and most beautiful pleasure in the world within the grasp of the poorest and humblest people.

Now this man became the world's greatest employer of labor. He paid the wages ever paid, and he utilized science and science, and truly sought to better about better conditions of living. In time he had visions that by shortening the hours of toil, and by allowing machines to do the hard work instead of man, that he would break the back of industrial slavery, give the toilers a better chance to live, and give them more to live for than other generations had known. He did so, and then across his dream, as a black cloud across the sun, came the great world war. It disheartened him. He saw its supreme folly and cost. He saw it, lived through it, and saw its aftermath of crime and destruction, its bootlegging and petting and neeking, its low ideals, its cold, aloof selfishness, and he noticed that people no longer neighbored and fraternized as in former days. He realized that the boys and girls of this generation with the bunny hug and Charleston were being taught the depravity that marked the dancing of Salome, but that they were missing the grace and good fellowship of those who danced in other days. He dreamed again that it might be possible to revive the old fashioned dances and wholesome comradeship that marked a past day, but one not yet entirely forgotten.

So Henry Ford "sent for his pipe" and he sent for his bowl and he sent for his fiddlers three, and thirty-six more. And he had them come from every section of this mighty land and they played before him.

In time he heard of Mellie Dunham and he sent for him to play before him even as Salome was summoned to dance before Herod.

When Mellie, the plain citizen of Maine, left home ten thousand neighbors saw him off, the bands played, while the Governor bade him God speed.

The Canadian National Railway furnished him and his wife with a private car and they were whirled into a foreign land, and the citizens of the great city of Montreal gave him a mighty welcome with a banquet, not because he could fiddle, but because Canada lies next to the North Pole and this man from Norway had built the best snow shoes in the world and on them an American, a Maine man had journeyed to the Pole. Canada knows and is interested in snow shoes and she welcomed the man who knew how to make them.

And in all this his good wife shared as she ever has shared whatever fate was his.

"She is a woman; one in whom the spritetime of her childhood has never lost its fresh perfume. She does little kindnesses which most leave undone or despise. Although no home were half so fair. No simplest duty is forgot. Life hath no dim and lowly spot. That doth not in her sunshine share."

So Lowell has described a woman like Grandma Dunham, and so these twin came to be the guests of the world's richest man and Mellie Dunham played before him. The richest man in the world danced to his hitting tunes as thousands had done before him and told Mellie Dunham that his waltz was the best he had ever heard and he will have it set to music and preserved for the world forever.

Someone asked the little old man from Maine, who had impressed him most and he said "Mr. Ford" while admiration shone in his eyes.

And so these simple home folks left and so they will come back having added glory and prestige to our state and back to us true and wonderful a welcome as they received in leaving.

Yet there are people who do not believe in fairy tales and who have never learned that truth is stranger than fiction, so that it pays to do level best.

They all hope that Mr. Ford's dreams may come true and that he may live long to enjoy the fruits of a life well spent and that coming days may lose some of the tragic barren sordidness that cheat the present generation of wholesome joys, and we in Maine, hope that Mellie Dunham's music and kindly ways will help him and that he will come often himself to Maine, the most beautiful state in this union to find for himself as kindly a welcome as he gave the fiddler of Norway.

BIG FIRE IN NORWAY—THE NEW UNIVERSALIST CHURCH FINISHED

Edited by Don C. Seitz

1881.
Aug. 12—Fine weather. Now at Gorham. Went home last Saturday and Sunday. On Monday, The Hotel is very full. Mr. Cole, Mr. J. Howe & their wives are at the House. St. John Smith & wife also are there & many from Portland.

Aug. 15—Cloudy, dull; but little sun. Very dry weather. Hotel continues very full. Mr. Crocker, Judge Emery, Mr. Davis & their wives came to the house today.

Aug. 24—Sunday—pleasant but cool. Now at Peabody's setting up the account on Hotel—Now talking about about Hotel. Went last Thursday with Mr. Little to Jefferson over heavy rain to Col. White's—visited Peabody & Gibb's. I went myself to the Nutch. Staid all night at Col. White's. Our business was to see about repairing the Cherry Mountain road. We came back on Friday. Very rainy day.

Aug. 25—Thursday—Very fine day, but cold night. Today a party of 700 came up from Portland on an excursion. Went to Berlin to examine Humphrey's work on Little's House. The Universalist Society in front Aug. 6. 20 Flaring commenced to rent in small House. Flaring commenced to rent by the month the last.

Sept. 10—Very hot weather—Remarkably so; hot weather commenced one week since. Very dry; streams low. I was at Gorham, N. H. & well liked. Mr. Stevens installed in the afternoon; forenoon sermon by Mr. Stevens.

Oct. 14—Very rainy day (Monday). Yesterday had a fine meeting at Universalist House—full congregation. The house is all finished & is a splendid house. The organ is very fine & is well liked. Begun to now in making cellar under new Hotel & also repairing Road.

Oct. 27—Snow storm 6 in. fell at Gorham & also at Portland. Still on ground. Oct. 28—Pleasant—snow still on ground.

Oct. 30, 31—Rainy. A great freshet—water as high as ever known at Gorham. Jack's Hill wash'd out.

Nov. 11—Snowy day—about 2 inches fell, which made a slight run of sleighing.

EAST WATERFORD

Warner Kendall Working in Town—McKeen Watchman at Corn Shop—Haskell Heirs Buy Fordson Tractor.

Robert Sanderson entertained his classmate and friend, Clarence Irving, of Portland, over the week end. They returned to North Bridgton, Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. McIntire attended State Grange at Bangor, Dec. 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison have a 12 pound boy who came to them, Friday evening, Dec. 4. Mrs. Hunt is stopping with Mrs. Cora Flood, at Norway Lake. Both mother and child are reported as doing well.

The Ladies' Farm Bureau met at the vestry, Waterford, Tuesday, Dec. 3. Those from this place who attended were Mrs. Florence Sanderson, Mrs. Myra Jacobson and Mrs. Grace Hilton, who reported a very pleasant meeting.

Karl Heath has obtained work for the winter in Rumford and has moved his family there.

Warner Kendall of West Bethel has recently come to visit for the Haskell heirs. Miss Ida Bumpus is stopping for a while with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pride.

Mrs. Hattie Danforth, who has been in Portland for several weeks, has returned home.

Charles McKeen is watchman at the corn shop.

The Haskell heirs have recently purchased a Fordson caterpillar tractor, which they will use in the woods, sawing birch and also plan to haul their bolts from the woods to the mill as soon as there is sufficient snow for sledding.

Mr. Morey and son of Norway and Herbert Callahan of South Waterford are boarding at W. V. Kneeland's.

NORTH WATERFORD

Rice Neighborhood

Mrs. Rice in Massachusetts for the Winter—Hauling and Packing Apples.

Lewis Decker took his mother, Mrs. Burnham Rice, and Erva Rice, to Bridgton, Monday, Dec. 7, to the dentist's.

Walter Rice spent Tuesday evening, Dec. 8, at his father's home. He drove down from Berry Mills on business.

Mrs. Harriet E. Rice has gone to Massachusetts to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Florence Johnson.

Mrs. C. A. Hersey and Leroy Hersey were in Bridgton on Monday, Dec. 7, and called on Mrs. Charles Saunders and Miss Elva Hamlin.

Nearly all of the Kittredges have been sick the past week and Percy McAllister has helped with the chores.

James Chabourne is hauling apples to Hiram for E. B. Hersey & Son. They were packed by Hannaford Bros., Portland. They also packed apples for C. P. Saunders and Wallace Jones.

Jews, Catholics and Protestants

Recent Article Written by Don C. Seitz

Frank L. Mark, formerly of Fryeburg and for many years past the executive head of the Hedley School of Brooklyn, N. Y., sends us a copy of the "Little Minister," owned, edited and published by Rev. Thomas Edward Fottorson, D. D., who is Mr. Mark's pastor. It has this to say of a former owner of a Norway paper:

In a recent issue of "The Outlook," Mr. Don C. Seitz, resident of Brooklyn, and son of an old-time Universalist minister, has an article entitled "Jews, Catholics and Protestants." It is one of those characteristic articles that stirs with Seitzisms. Brother Seitz is one of the best-balanced throwers of rhetorical bricks in the land, and he is an excellent marksman. How is this for an interesting bit? "Rabbis and priests are much better guardians of their flocks than the Protestant clergy. In the first place they have authority. The Protestant minister must be a cross between a diplomat, a showman, and a hypocrite to get along with the average congregation. I say this as the son of a clergyman, with ample inside experience. The priest, in particular, has no such humiliating position. He needs only to stand in the least of his troubles. He does not have to earn his salary by lectures, fill his pews by stunts, or depend upon the church fair grab-bag to buy coal for the winter. The collection is taken at the door, and every admission is paid for. Catholic finances are on a solid basis, and are carefully cared for."

"The same may be said of the synagogue. Against this the average Protestant church must compete, with uncertain revenues and a congregation that insists on more entertainment than Gospel."

"Moreover, both priest and rabbi are apt to be men of the world. They know how to deal with men. They have seldom failed at some other occupation before putting on the cloth. The rabbi is worldly affairs, oppressed by poverty, and compelled often to change pulpits. He is the victim of the whims of church committees, and whom none can be more heartless or inconsiderate. I have one bunch in mind who were a choice collection of scoundrels. Yet the fate of the minister I ever knew was in their hands and they ruined him."

NOTE: J. Howe was Jeremiah Howe, brother of the late E. W. Howe, and uncle of Mrs. Izah Howe Sanborn. He was in business in Norway with his brother. His daughter, Mrs. J. C. Snow, is still living in Boston. His son, Frederick B., a member of the firm of Gaston Snow and Saltontall, is a leading Boston lawyer and one of the trustees of the late Gen. Charles H. Taylor's interest in the Boston Globe.

The new Universalist "meeting house" is the present structure. Mr. Beal was the most active spirit in the Society. F. H. Whitman was Francis H. Whitman, of Harrison, former owner of Summit Spring.

Robinsons Spend Night in Camp—Morey Moved to New Home—Fred McAllister Has Blood Poisoning—McAllisters Move to Fryeburg.

Thanksgiving guests at Walter Canwell's were his sister, Mrs. Addie Churchill of South Paris, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Yeaton and two daughters, Hazel and Elsie, of Welchville. Mr. Canwell's brother, Isaac Canwell of Mechanic Falls and a friend, Mr. J. H. Hunt, of Fryeburg, were also present. Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Savin entertained Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Millett and children, Howard, Elizabeth and Sylvia, and Mr. and Mrs. Merton Kimball of South Waterford and children, Edna, Ethel, Merritt and William, at Thanksgiving dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Browne and children, June and Don, were guests of her mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Shedd, at Bismectown. Letters from Mrs. Colby Robinson of Bangor tell of a very pleasant Thanksgiving with Mr. Robinson's parents at Bingham and a fourteen mile journey into the woods to Mr. Robinson's lumber camp. A party of four hiked for some miles and then rode the rest of the way on one of the teams going to camp. The night spent there was a novel experience and greatly enjoyed by all of the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grover and son, Robert, and Hazel Hicks of North Waterford called at Merritt Savin's, Saturday morning, Dec. 5, and took dinner with Mr. Grover's mother, Mrs. Ezra Lebroke.

Roy Wardwell has been over the telephone line in this vicinity, examining the machines and putting everything in order to insure good service.

Irving Morey has moved to his new home near Stone's camp and the York house is again closed.

Elmer Henley is having some hemlock timber cut on his lot. Will Bird of North Waterford is at work for him.

Mrs. Rose Eames has moved to Bethel to spend the winter with her brother, Mr. Amnis. The three grandchildren, Loretta, Maxine, and Lloyd Swan, have gone with her. The house is closed the first time for many years. Mrs. Eames has lived here for many years and is well known and will be much missed. All good wishes for success and happiness go with her to her new home.

Fred McAllister has been having a bad case of infection in one arm. A physician has been called and the treatment seems to be getting the better of the trouble as the swelling is going down and the arm is improving at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis McAllister have moved from Fryeburg and are to have a rent with his brother, David McAllister, for the winter. They are housekeeping in a part of the house.

Ezra Lebroke recently bought three very nice pigs of George Briggs of Albany. Mr. Lebroke sold one to his son-in-law, Jesse Littlefield.

Walter Canwell and son, Harold, are cutting birch on their lot.

Herman Holt has laid his faithful old team horse Jack, to rest. Jack has been ailing for some time, with no hope of recovery and it seemed more merciful. He has been a familiar figure for many years on the road machine in summer and road roller in winter and in many other places where a team horse was needed and all his friends regret his passing.

PARIS

Stearns Hill

It was a very merry party that gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Stone, Stearns' Hill, Thanksgiving. There were 12 guests and 15 sat down to a long table beautifully laden with food and drink. First course, sweet and Irish potatoes, roast turkey and pork, bread, butter, onions, squash, mashed turnip, cranberry sauce and pickles. Second course, doughnuts, tarts, four kinds of cake, mince, apple, squash and pumpkin pies, cheese. Third course, grapes, candy and nuts. There was a fine program of music given by Miss Vera Stone and Mrs. Louie Worthen, of Portland, on piano and ukelele, also music by children of Gerald Swift on ukulele and banjo. Song by Minnie Swift. A Tremendous Price Reduction

On January seventh, nineteen twenty-six, Dodge Brothers, Incorporated, will announce a tremendous reduction in the prices of their complete line of motor cars.

These reductions will apply on all cars bought after midnight, December fifteenth, nineteen twenty-five.

When the new prices are made known on January seventh, the full amount of the reductions will be immediately refunded to all purchasers since December fifteenth.

These revolutionary reductions are made possible by a recently completed ten million dollar extension program—new buildings and equipment that will nearly double the capacity of Dodge Bros. factories, in nineteen twenty-six.

There is no change in the policy upon which the Dodge Bros. established their leaders. Eleven years ago—the policy of constant improvement, without yearly models.

Lesson for December 20

CHRISTMAS LESSON

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 2:1-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—"For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord."

PRIMARY TOPIC—Wise Men Visit
the Baby Jesus

JUNIOR TOPIC—Wise Men Follow
the Star

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
The Christmas Story

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
The Prince of Peace

Note: For this Sunday's lesson the lesson committee has given as an option of a Christmas lesson or a summary of Paul's life. It is presumed that most teachers will prefer the Christmas lesson since Paul has been the central figure for six months.

I. The Wise Men Seeking Jesus (vv.
1-2).

These wise men who sought Jesus were either Arabian or Persian astrologers, students of the stars. The appearance of an unusual star attracted their attention. Perhaps they were acquainted with the famous prophecy of Balaam (Num. 24:17). Doubtless through the influence of the Jews who remained in Chaldea or the direct influence of Daniel extending to this time, they had become acquainted with the hope of a Messiah. The light they had was dim, but they lived up to the best they had. We learn from them:

1. That All True Wisdom Leads to the Savior, for He is the Fullness of Wisdom.

2. That God's Word Shall Not Return Unto Him Void (Isa. 55:11).

The seed cast upon the Eastern waters brought forth fruit after many days. This ought to bring confidence to many ministers and Sunday school teachers who have not as yet seen the fruit of their labors.

3. The Grace of God Calls Men
From Unexpected Quarters.

Some who have the least opportunities give the greatest honor to Christ,
while others, blessed with the richest opportunities, shut Him out.

II. Herod Seeking to Kill Jesus (vv.
3-8).

The news brought by the wise men struck terror to Herod's heart. He was not alone in this for all Jews were troubled with him. A glimpse at the social enemies in and about Jerusalem in that day will enable us to understand why this news brought uneasiness to the people. They were living in the greatest luxury. Beautiful apparel, sumptuous feasts, palatial houses, etc., led to gross immorality.
We can thus readily see why Herod
and all Jerusalem should be troubled.
They did not want a Savior who would save them from their sins; they wanted to continue in them. Herod demanded of the priests and scribes information as to where Christ should be born. They were soon able to tell him. These people had a technical knowledge of the Scriptures, but had no heart for the Savior as set forth therein. Conditions much like these prevail today. This reception of the Savior shows that perverseness of heart is the cause of so many being indifferent to Christ, and of their opposition to Him when His claims are presented. It is true today that the luxuries of wealth, the privileges of the fashion-able, and the gross immorali-ties to which these lead make Jesus Christ unwelcome in many quarters.

III. Jesus Found (vv. 9-12).

The wise men having obtained the desired information started immediately to find Jesus. As soon as they left the city the star which had guided them from the East appeared again to lead them on; and that it had disappeared from the sky, but in doubt the city buildings shut out its light. The star guided them to the place where Jesus was. When they found Him they worshiped Him in this they displayed true faith. They did not see any miracle, only a babe, yet they worshiped Him as king. Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed (John 20:29). Now, God's over-ruling providence in all this. Many hundred years before the people had said that Christ should come from Bethlehem (Micah 5:2), and so it remained that Mary should be brought to that city to give birth to Christ. Let us be assured that nothing can thwart the divine purpose. God so ordered that these men should depart another way, thereby a feeding Herod's wicked purpose. Through these wise men the Lord gave gifts into the hands of Joseph and Mary before their going to Egypt. Doubtless this served a good purpose in meeting their expenses during their stay there. Truly all things work together for good to them that love God (Rom. 8:28).

Life

Life is but a day, and the hours flee.
Soon it is high noon, then afternoon,
evening, night, when all service ceases.
—R. P. Anderson.

Simplicity and Purity

"Simplicity and purity are the two things by which a man is lifted up above all earthly things."

A Wrong Deed

A wrong deed should be immediately
repented of and confessed

UPTON

Upton Hill

Horses Taking Place of Summer Travelling Baskets—Ball Games—Christmas Spirit Growing—Doctor Travels Three Miles on Foot to See Patient.

The show man has gone and Upton Hill has resumed its normal condition. A community dance being held in the Grange Hall, Saturday night, under the auspices of John Reynolds, a jolly gathering was present, though no Mollie Dunham in town here. A pleasant time was had by those present.

The summer travel over the hill is practically over, but span after span of fine looking teams go past on their way into the woods for the winter. Twenty-three horses being the largest number counted in any one lot.

Mrs. A. W. Jenkins returned, Saturday, from her trip to Bangor, where State Grange was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Jenkins are on the receiving list for congratulations as a fine baby boy was born Friday, Dec. 11.
His name is Kendrick Rex Jenkins.

Bethel boys won the basketball game played with Upton boys last week, at Berol. Upton boys say but little, but look ever so wise when the game is mentioned and whisper of a star player from Magalloway who helped Bethel.

The recent cold weather has stirred up
a spirit of unrest among some in town,
and plans and ways and means discussed
concerning moving somewhere, anywhere,
only to more comfortable or convenient place. One man in particular, going back and forth with his dress suit in hand, which would suggest rum running,
if he wasn't better known than that.

A. W. Jenkins was a dinner guest with his son, C. A. Jenkins and family, Friday.

Dr. and Mrs. Twaddle of Bethel were overnight visitors, this week, Thursday.
Mrs. Twaddle's mother, Mrs. Brook, the doctor going on farther into the woods (3 miles on foot) to attend a patient.

Christmas spirit is growing. The teacher, Miss Matherson, already training
the children for the Christmas tree exercises to be held in the church, and including drawing the adults into action as both labor and finance are needed to make a success of it.

Thus Upton days pass. The inhabitants, some of them trying to cause a thrill by giving a false alarm of schoolhouse chimney burning out, when later,
after suit was dumped into the stove,
"twas found the fire was only the shining
of auto lights through smoke of said chimney.

ALBANY
Hunt's Corner and Vicinity
Circle Postponed Thursday—Replacing
Paint for the Church—Rev. Mr. Bull Preached Sunday.

Mrs. Ives was in town, Thursday.
Mrs. Alta Bird has been ill with a bad cold.

Miss Hilda Jamieson, Edith and Adel in Cummings were in Lewiston, Saturday.

Mrs. Mabel Becker returned from State Grange, Saturday night.

The circle was omitted Thursday night, because of illness and bad weather. The next one will be December 26th, followed by a Christmas tree for the children. The supper will be free for all children, and any amount the others wish to give, will be used toward replacing the paint for the church, which was destroyed at the time Abel Andrews' house burned, last fall. Mrs. Ives expects to be here for the Christmas tree.

Rev. Mr. Bull preached at the church, Sunday morning at 10:45. It is expected to have services at the same hour all winter, unless prevented by severe storms.

While out hunting, Friday morning,
Gardner Gorman found a young collie
puppy in the woods back of his house.
No owner has yet been found.

Back Given Out?

Then Follow the Advice of This Norway Resident

Are you dragging along day after day with a dull, nagging backache? Do you feel tired, lame and aching; suffer sharp torturing pains at every sudden move? Then look to your kidneys! Colds, strains and overwork weaken the kidneys and bring on throbbing backache and knife-like twinges. Don't risk serious kidney disease! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Read what this Norway resident says: Mrs. Morton Bich, 21 Whitman St., says: "My back was lame and I had to put up with a dull ache across my kidneys that kept up steadily. Continual bearing down pains sapped my strength and made me tired and worn out. Sharp twinges of pain also shot across my kidneys. My kidneys were weak and acted too often. But the use of Doan's Pills from Stone's Drug Store did me of all signs of the trouble." 60c, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

KEZAR FALLS

Friends of L. M. R. C. Met—Mrs. Alvin Stanley Dead—Mrs. Charles Mitchell and Son On Way to Baltimore.

Tuesday evening, Dec. 7, members and friends of the L. M. R. C., gathered at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Stanley, by special request. The spacious rooms were tastefully decorated, as were the tables with the colors devoted to Christmas. A bountiful supper was served at 6:30 and a greatly enjoyed by all the guests. Christmas and the annual Christmas tree decked with ten cent presents then fulfilled their mission. At the first of the year this Club composed of members, admirers all of President Coolidge, started in on an economical basis by each member writing out their own program for the year, thereby saving twenty-two dollars and aside from their usual expenses, were enabled to donate eleven dollars to the legionnaires of Carroll West Post, the sum of eleven dollars also to the public health fund, a similar amount which helps to prove the truth of the old adage that "a penny saved is a penny earned."

Rev. Arthur Callaghan's sermons are all well worth hearing and last Sunday morning's was especially fine. He preached from the text put on the whole armor of God. A beautiful duet was rendered by Mrs. Iva Cutting and her sister, Bernice Ridlon.

Maria, wife of Alvin Stanley, died Tuesday, Dec. 8, after an illness of many months. Services were held at the Advent Chapel, Dec. 11th, Rev. Coolbroth assisted by Rev. Holman, officiating. A beautiful selection was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Holman. Beside her husband and one son, Mrs. Stanley leaves many friends to mourn their loss.

Mrs. Charles Mitchell and little son left here, Thursday, the 11th, for Baltimore, where she will join her husband, who is a civil engineer. Mrs. Mitchell expected to drive as far as New York unaided, but there she expects to be joined by a friend of her husband's, who also has employment in Baltimore.

D. C. Clark's Attack

D. C. Clark's criticism of my list of the seven greatest Americans, contains some queer statements; a few of which are remarkable and others extremely simple and none of them I think will bear serious investigation, or stand historical criticism. Mr. Clark must know, he is too intelligent not to know, that one who is eminent only in one respect, while there are so many who were eminent in more than one, could not be included in a list of so few as seven, of the greatest Americans.

Julius Caesar has been called "the foremost man of all the world" as a result of his greatness as a general, as a writer, an orator, a ruler, a statesman, eminent in several respects. I stated the rule in my list of the seven greatest Americans. Mr. Clark ignored it. His purpose was obvious. He sought a wordy and unprofitable controversy, which to me in the present condition of my eyesight, and the amount of writing I have to do is simply an annoyance.

His statements about the Great Expounder of the Constitution of the United States, Daniel Webster, are extremely ludicrous, and I would be laughed at to take them seriously. I was not in error in my statements about him or any one of the seven, as Mr. Clark said, but every one can be substantiated by the best historical authorities.

In the History of Oxford County, which I am writing, one chapter is devoted to Daniel Webster at Fryeburg, and what he was and did. I shall not revise what I have written about him, on account of Mr. Clark's statements. But for the fact that Daniel Webster will have such a prominent place in this work, and must be of peculiar interest to the good people of Fryeburg and vicinity, I would not have taken any notice at this time, of Mr. Clark's statements.

At my leisure I purpose to treat further of Richard Henry Lee, and the inside history of the Declaration of Independence, and of Henry Clay, a popular idol of his time, which by the way, Daniel Webster never was. Clay was the author of the Protective System, which Mulhall, the English statistician said wrought a degree of prosperity and wealth in the United States, unexampled in the history of the world. Also a series of sketches on the seven greatest American generals, the seven greatest American naval officers, the seven greatest American authors and the seven greatest American heroes in American history, etc. Reasonable criticism will not be taken amiss, but statements simply made to provoke unprofitable controversy, will excite a resentment something like that of Tom Marshall of Kentucky, a stump speaker of note of his time, who was addressing on one occasion a large open air meeting, he was annoyed by a man in the outer circle of the crowd shouting: "Louder, Tom, louder." With their usual Mrs. Charles Melvin, part of the time. He had lived in An-
